

F. R. HITCHCOCK, OF TANEYTOWN DIES SUDDENLY

Stricken with a coronary occlusion as he was directing pregame practice for the Taneytown South Penn. Baseball team at Taneytown about 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Fern R. Hitchcock, 56, of Taneytown, died within a few minutes in spite of efforts of a physician in the crowd at the park.

Dr. James Marsh, deputy medical examiner for Carroll County, fixed the cause of death. Dr. W. E. Stevens, Taneytown physician, who was at the park when Hitchcock was stricken, went to his assistance but was unable to revive the sportsman who has been identified with baseball for many years. He apparently was in his usual health when he went to the ball park.

A native of Taneytown, Mr. Hitchcock was a son of Dr. N. A. Hitchcock, Taneytown, and the late Alice Martin Hitchcock. He was a veteran of World War I and belonged to the Taneytown post of the American Legion where he served as post home steward.

Services Wednesday
The deceased was a member of Monocacy Lodge of the Masons at Taneytown, the Rod and Gun Club and the Park Association there. He also belonged to the Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church there and the Brotherhood of the church.

Active in baseball circles for years as a player and coach and manager, Mr. Hitchcock once played in the infield with Laurel, Md., in the old Eastern Shore League and with Waynesboro in the former Blue Ridge League. After his playing days, he had continued his interest in the sport as coach or manager. The game with Harney, for which Taneytown practicing when Hitchcock was stricken, was not played.

Besides his father and stepmother, Mr. Hitchcock is survived by his wife, Lena (Angell) Hitchcock. (Please Turn to Page 4)

DELONE'S PTA HELDS JUDGE, HOLDS ELECTION

Joseph Kegel, Hanover, was re-elected president of the Parent Teachers Association of the Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, at a meeting of the organization Sunday afternoon at the school. Others re-elected were: vice president, Edward DeChuebell; secretary, Dennis Umidi; financial secretary, Mrs. Robert Derck; and treasurer, Rev. Fr. William Lyons, principal of the school.

Parents of incoming Freshmen met with the Sisters and faculty members in the class rooms at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Mark Redding, Hanover, chairman of the rummage sale held at the American Legion Home in Hanover last Saturday, said the affair was a success.

The guest speaker, Judge W. C. Sheely, who discussed "The Juvenile Court," declared: "No child is really bad. Getting into trouble is part of the experience of growing up. It is an experience of life. There are many reasons and causes which bring about juvenile delinquency. It may be some sort of insecurity in the child's life or the financial standing of his family. Whatever it is, the Juvenile Court aims to help rather than to punish the young offender."

"Little is known by the public of the way such a court is conducted because we try to keep the child's name from the public. If parents knew how much we are trying to help a delinquent, they would, perhaps, give the court officials greater cooperation."

"The Juvenile Court of this county takes care of about 150 children a year, mostly traffic violation offenders. The Juvenile Court of Adams County was established 50 years ago," the judge said.

Tea was served by the women from the Paradise Rectory parish and from St. Aloysius parish, Littlestown. About 75 persons were present, including Mrs. Sheely.

4 DEPARTMENTS PLAN DISPLAYS AT HIGH SCHOOL

"An 'Open House' sponsored by the Industrial Arts, Home Economics, Art and Agriculture departments, will be held at Gettysburg High School Thursday evening, starting at 8 o'clock.

Jack Corbin, in charge of the Industrial Arts Department, will show color slides, photographed by Jack Cessna for the department. The narration accompanying the slides will be given by the students who have projects on display and will describe the work in the new shop at the high school. The slides will be shown at 8:45 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Twenty-five articles made by the students of the Industrial Arts curriculum will be presented to as many adults visiting the shop exhibits.

Other Exhibits

The Vocational Home Economics students will display dresses and sewing in addition to having displays on home decorating. Members of the general Home Economics department will display tea towels and breakfast trays made by the seventh grade students, sewing kits and lunch trays made by the eighth graders and blouses and table displays made by the ninth graders.

Projects including water color painting, oil paintings, plaster book ends, paper marker heads and block prints will be shown by the students of the art classes. The vocational agriculture students will display vegetable plants and other articles dealing with farm machinery and equipment.

AWARD PRIZES ON WEDNESDAY

Mrs. C. H. Hett, regent of the Gettysburg Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will present the annual DAR Essay awards at an assembly Wednesday morning at 8:50 o'clock at the Gettysburg High School. All members of the DAR are invited to attend.

First prize in the Essay Contest will go to Miss Alice McDannell and second to Miss Anna Mary Diehl. Miss Anna McDannell will receive the first prize in the American History Awards and the second will go to Miss Joyce Musselman. First prize in the Home Economics Awards will be presented to Miss Marie Miller and second to Miss Ellen Fisel. During the morning's program, Miss Alice McDannell will read her prize-winning essay.

Prof. Francis E. Reinberger, professor of practical theology at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, will be the guest speaker. Musical selections will be sung by the senior high school choir. Joyce Mehning will present an instrumental solo.

Judges for the contest include: Rev. Edwirth Korte, Mrs. Kressman Taylor and William C. Darrah, rah.

Nice Weather, Buds, Lure Many Visitors

Warm, sunny weather boosted the travel over the battlefield on the past weekend. Park Department estimates placed the number of visitors on the two days at 5,171, the largest number for any weekend thus far this season.

The Redbud, or Judas Tree blossoms were a thing of the past on the battlefield, but the dogwood was still in full bloom. Throughout the county, apple and other fruit blossoms attracted hundreds of motorists.

There were 38 buses here over the weekend, 21 on Saturday and 17 on Sunday.

Park Service estimates placed the number of visitors Saturday at 2,314, including 1,512 in private cars and 802 in 21 buses, and on Sunday at 2,857, including 2,268 in private automobiles and 589 in 17 buses.

LOCAL STUDENT WILL ORGANIZE SECOND CHURCH

The Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church has authorized the establishment of a second Lutheran church in Frederick and has called Rev. Carroll L. Boyer, a native of Middletown valley, and presently a student at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary to develop and organize such a congregation, it was announced Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Boyer, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll E. Boyer, of near Middletown, has accepted the call and expects to go to Frederick about June 1.

The general territory from which the congregation will be drawn will be the northwest section of the city, it was stated. The decision to establish this mission church was made after a survey of Lutheran families in the northwest area of Frederick last Fall.

Will Build Church

After the congregation has been developed and organized, the Board of American Missions will request the congregation to select a site for a church and will finance its construction through mission funds. It is reported that it will, in all probability, take about six months to bring this congregation to the point of organizing as a church.

Rev. Mr. Boyer will be graduated from the theological seminary here on May 22 and will be ordained as a minister by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Maryland on May 27. During his seminary course, Rev. Mr. Boyer has been serving as assistant pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church in Hanover.

He is married, his wife being the former Miss Audrey Kalloway, of Braddock Heights. They are the parents of two children.

TWO INJURED IN COLLISION

Two persons were injured and brought in the Warner Hospital ambulance to the hospital here this morning when the car in which they were riding was struck, and overturned, on the Harrisburg Rd. a mile and a half south of York Springs at 10:15 a.m., according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Injured were Mervin L. Eyer, 68, of 208 N. Queen St., Littlestown, back injury and fractured ribs, and his wife, Loretta Eyer, 72, chest and back injuries. The car in which they were riding was being driven by S. Alberta Eyer, 31, of 316 York St., Gettysburg, police said. Two children also in the car escaped injury.

Police said the Eyer car was traveling north and its left rear fender was struck by a car operated by Irvin L. Harbold, 48, of York Springs R. 1, a substitute mail carrier. The Harbold car was traveling south.

Damage to the Harold car was estimated at $5 and to the Eyer car at $800.

Joint School Bd. Will Meet Tonight

Adoption of the 1953-1954 budget, the election of a treasurer, secretary and solicitor and "important matters of business pertaining to the building program" are on the agenda for the May meeting of the Gettysburg Joint School Board to be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the high school library.

Notices sent by Secretary Kenneth G. Reinhardt Jr. state "it is important that everyone be present."

Nile E. Thomas Is Buried On Sunday

Funeral services for Nile E. Thomas, 67, of Biglerville, who died at his home Friday morning, were held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Bender Funeral Home, the Rev. H. W. Sternat officiating. Interment was in the Biglerville Cemetery.

The pallbearers were John Dear-dorff Sr., Roy Diehl, Samuel Ehlman, Ralph Shetter, J. Rufus Roth and S. E. Kapp.

LIONS AT 6

The meeting of the Gettysburg Lions Club this evening will be held at 6 o'clock instead of 6:30 p.m. as was announced in the weekly letter to club members. The meeting will be held at St. James Lutheran Church with members of the cast of the annual Lions' show as special guests.

CALL ALIMONY HEARING

The Adams County court has set May 18 as the date for a hearing on a rule to show cause why Francis B. Strausbaugh should not pay alimony pending decision in the case, counsel fees and other costs in the action in divorce brought against him by his wife, Edith Jennie (Watson) Strausbaugh.

MASTER IN DIVORCE

Attorney Richard A. Brown has been appointed by the Adams County Court as the master in the divorce action brought by Robert J. Hockensmith, New Oxford.

Officers Hold Reunion Here

Six officers of Co. A, 304th Tank Battalion, which trained at Camp Colt in 1918, met in Gettysburg over the weekend for the first reunion of this World War I outfit since members were mustered out of service early in 1919. Shown in front of the Hotel Gettysburg, which was their headquarters for the reunion, are: left to right, front row, Jack Felton, Ardmore, Pa.; Hugo Johnson, Greenfield, Mass.; M. E. Frisbie, Manson, Iowa; back row, Walter Wylie, Glencoe, Ill.; Dr. Grover C. Jones, Macon, Ga., and Henry Hock, Philadelphia.

Six Officers Who Served In Tank Corps Here In 1918 Hold First Reunion Over Week End

Focal point of interest for six former lieutenants of Co. A, 304th Tank Corps Battalion, which trained at Camp Colt in 1918, was the site of their former training area and training grounds south of the borough, on lands over which Pickett's charge took place on the third day of the famous Battle of Gettysburg on July 3, 1863.

The six men, all that could be gathered together at this time, held their first reunion here over the weekend since they were mustered out of service early in 1919 upon their return from France. Plans for the reunion were started before Christmas last year. Several of the 21 former officers of the company are dead; some could not be reached, their present addresses not known, while others were unable to be here for various reasons.

Served 35 Years Ago
Those attending included former First Lieutenant John (Jack) Felton, of Ardmore, who was largely responsible for arranging the reunion, and former Second Lieutenants Henry Mock, Eugene Frisbie, Hugo Johnson, Grover C. Jones and Walter Wylie. The wives of five of them were also here with them. For all but Mr. Felton it was their first return to Gettysburg since the days of Camp Colt, 35 years ago. Several of them, however, had seen each other during the intervening years since their army service, at varying intervals.

To most of them, Gettysburg was familiar, although "changed." The company left Gettysburg October 17, 1918 and sailed from Hoboken on October 20, landing first at Liverpool on October 31. Crossing England, the outfit went to France, where it was stationed at Cohens, in the northern part of that country, arriving there on November 9, two days before the Armistice.

Returned In May, 1919
The company remained at Cohens for some time, being gradually broken up as officers and men were transferred to new assignments. Lieutenants Mock, Johnson, Jones and Wylie were at Gettysburg on the Friday night concert.

More than 200 student singers from many parts of the state took part in the festival arranged by the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association.

GIVE BAIL FOR COURT
William Jesse Haycraft, 57, of Taneytown R. 1, arrested Friday night by state police of the Gettysburg substation on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants, signed a plea of guilty to this charge Saturday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder and furnished $1,000 bail to appear for sentence in County Court on August 29.

STAG PARTY TUESDAY
Two meetings and a stag party have been announced for the Gettysburg Country Club for Tuesday night. The golf committee will meet at 8 o'clock; the board of directors will meet at 9 o'clock and the stag party will follow after that session. William Mussar will be in charge of the party. Cold turkey will be served.

REPORTS BIKE STOLEN
Richard Boyer, aged 10, 22 Fourth St., reported to borough police his bicycle had been taken Saturday from where it was parked at the Strand theater.

BIKE IS RETURNED
A blue and white bicycle, turned over to borough police when found in the west end of town, was returned to its owner, George Lower, aged 13, 16 Seminary Ave.

CAN'T FIND NOISE
Borough police were called at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning by Miss Mary Himes, Carlisle St., to investigate noises on Delap Ave. Police reported they found everything quiet on their arrival.

REV. MEREDITH ELK'S SPEAKER ON MOTHER'S DAY

"The awareness of the love and sacrifice of our mothers should make us conscious of our failings and challenge us to fulfill the dreams they had and have for each of our lives," the Rev. Victor K. Meredith Jr., Gettysburg Methodist pastor, said in a Mother's Day address at annual exercises at the local Elks' home Sunday evening.

About 150 persons attended the service, witnessed the lodge ritual and heard a group of selections by the Gettysburg High School Choir under the direction of Paul W. Grove.

Exalted Ruler James W. Reigle conducted the opening ritual and Fred G. Pfeffer gave "A Tribute to Mother." The choir sang Palestrina's "We Adore Thee" and the Negro spiritual, "Ride the Chariot." The Mother's Day ritual by lodge officers followed and then the Rev. Mr. Meredith presented his address. The choir sang "Born To Be Free" by Williams and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and the service ended with the closing lodge ritual.

History Of Observance

Opening his address with a statement of the purposes and implications of the observance of Mother's Day, the Rev. Mr. Meredith gave brief historical facts about early mothers in this country. Legend has it, he said, that the first foreign woman to become a mother on American soil was with the Viking expedition of Leif Ericson in 1007 A.D. He added that the first mother among the English colonists in the "lost colony" of Roanoke Island, N. C., was Eleanor Dare. Her daughter, Virginia, was born in 1587. In 1908, Philadelphia became the first city to observe Mother's Day and in 1914 President Wilson proclaimed the second Sunday of May as Mother's Day for the nation, the speaker said.

Citing scriptural injunctions from God to "honor thy father and thy mother" and "Ye shall fear every man his mother and his father," the local pastor pointed out there is a blessing and promise linked with the first quotation while in the second, found in Leviticus, mother is placed first and the term "reverence" can be best defined to mean "reverence." "This is certainly the purpose of our nationwide observance of this day," he declared.

"Tributes Should Be Lived"

"Our mothers have been and should continue to be a light in our path of life. Their influence, love and early teaching guide us. They have set God before us and our earliest concepts of God and His example. Their love and dreams for us are the motivating power or principle of our early life. This should continue through all our years."

"Our tributes and flowers are hollow unless we live the praises we bring," the Rev. Mr. Meredith concluded.

Sunday's service was arranged by a committee headed by Kenneth R. Dengler, esteemed loyal knight of the lodge.

Rodney Felix Sings Solo At Festival

While participating in the annual state chorus festival at Kittanning, Pa., Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Rodney A. Felix, a senior at Gettysburg High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Felix, Biglerville Rd., was selected as one of the program's soloists. He sang "Young Tom O'Devon" by Kennedy Russell at the Friday night concert.

More than 200 student singers from many parts of the state took part in the festival arranged by the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association.

Cooking School Opens Tonight

The Gettysburg Times-Littlestown sixth annual cooking school will open tonight in the auditorium of St. Aloysius School, with Miss Madeline Linehan, Ipswich, Mass., as lecturer and demonstrator. The second and final session in Littlestown will be held Tuesday night.

Doors of the auditorium will open at 6:30 o'clock, and the school will start at 7:30 o'clock. Each of the two sessions will conclude at 9:30 p.m.

The school will be all-electric, with displays of electric appliances, food products and home aids. Twenty-five baskets of food and food products, the food prepared on the stage and other prizes will be awarded each of the two nights. A $291.75 Frigidaire electric range and a $29.95 Fryrite will be awarded on Tuesday night as grand prizes.

JUDGES LAUD BANK'S ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

Although the recent rain and hail storms in this area cut down the number of exhibits at the Gettysburg National Bank's annual flower show here Saturday, the display was praised by Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Frock of Hanover, who judged the display.

"The quality of the exhibits is very good and it can be considered a very good show," the judges declared. The show was arranged by this committee: Mrs. Cuyon E. Buehler, Mrs. Thomas Halsey, Mrs. John Bucher, Jay P. Brown and Miss Jean Musselman.

The list of award winners follows with first prize winners getting $2; second, $1.50, and third, $1: Darwin tulips, Mrs. P. J. McGlynn, Biglerville; Miss Martha Sachs and Mrs. Pinkney Hess.

Lilies Take Prizes

Parrot tulips, Mrs. John Hartlaub, Aspers R. 1; Mrs. McGlynn and Mrs. Robert Kennel, Gettysburg R. 5. Collection of tulips, Mrs. Hartlaub, John D. Lipsey Jr., and Isaac Ripley, Aspers.

C. C. ADVANCES STATUE PLANS

Twenty-nine Gettysburg organizations have been requested by the Chamber of Commerce to name representatives to a general Lincoln Memorial Statue Committee, which will meet in the near future to express community-wide views on the proposed erection of a statue to the Civil War president in Gettysburg.

Letters to these organizations from the chamber said that "at a recent meeting of the board of directors a proposal of long standing for the erection of a Lincoln Square were revived. The directors unanimously approved a resolution directing the Chamber of Commerce to organize a general Lincoln Memorial Statue Committee comprising one representative from each organization in Gettysburg."

Organizations invited to send representatives, in addition to the Chamber of Commerce itself, include the Rotary Club, Lions Club, Exchange Club, Elks, Eagles, Moose, VFW, VFW Auxiliary, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, Soroptimist Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, Sons of Union Veterans, Spanish War Veterans, Lincoln Fellowship, Odd Fellows, Masons, Knights of Columbus, Gettysburg College, Lutheran Seminary, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Battlefield Guides Association, Retail Merchants Association, Gettysburg Fire Department, Annie Danner Club, Woman's Club, PTA, and Beta Sigma Phi.

Local Property Is Sold For $37,900

The Laura Kalbfleisch estate property at Chambersburg and Washington Sts. was purchased Saturday afternoon at public sale by S. Luther Baltzley, Elm Ave., for $37,900. Personal property at the sale brought $1,411.

DOG BITES GIRL

Another dog-bite case was reported to borough police Sunday morning at 11:45 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Dillon, 241 N. Stratton St., said a tan and black dog, resembling a German shepherd, had entered her yard and when the Dillon's young daughter went toward the animal it bit her in the stomach. The child was treated by a local physician and given anti-rabies injections.

POLICE PROBE 3 ACCIDENTS OVER WEEKEND

Automobiles operated by C. A. Eppelman, 63, of Aspers R. 1 and Harry James Conover, 19, of Merchantville, N. J., collided at 2:45 p.m. Saturday four miles north of Biglerville on Route 34, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Police said Conover was traveling north and failed to see Eppelman driving out of a side road. He struck the side of Eppelman's car. The latter suffered a bruised chest, but was not treated, police said.

Damage to Eppelman's car was estimated at $300 and to Conover's car at $600.

Two automobiles collided at 3:30 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of the Emmitsburg Rd. and the Wheatfield Rd. on the Battlefield. Police said Robert E. Skinner, 61, of Petersburg, Va., was crossing the Emmitsburg Rd. A car operated by William V. Riley, 21, of Gardners R. 1, traveling north, struck the Skinner car, police said. No one was injured.

$175 Collision Damage

Automobiles of Maurice Godfrey, 18, of Hanover R. 2 and Catherine Christiansen, 46, of Arlington, Va., were involved in an accident at 10:05 p.m. Sunday 1.2 miles east of McSherrystown on Route 116.

Police said the Christiansen car, traveling east, slowed to make a right turn into a driveway. The car following stopped. Police said Godfrey, third in line, was traveling fast and was unable to stop. Godfrey swerved to the right and struck the Christiansen car, they said.

No one was injured. Damage to the Godfrey car was estimated at $100 and to the Christiansen car at $75.

FAIRFIELD HIGH ALUMNI DINNER HELD SATURDAY

One hundred and eighty-one members of the Alumni Association of the Fairfield High School and their guests attended the annual alumni banquet which was held Saturday night in the Community Hall at Fairfield. Dinner was served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fairfield Fire Co. John Diehl, president of the association, presided at the business meeting.

The program was in charge of Robert Musselman. Corsages were presented to Mrs. Russell Spangler and Miss Ethel McCreary, members of the Class of 1910, the first graduating class at Fairfield High School, only members of this class present. Boutonnieres and corsages were presented to the following: H. L. Harbaugh, 85, oldest guest; Jack Dolly, Butler, Pa., coming the longest distance; Mrs. Hope Brenizer Cobb, Camden, N. J., second longest distance; Miss Alma Henry, Fairfield, retired teacher; Archie Chronister, Hanover, baldest man present, and the officers of the association, Mr. Diehl, Roy Musselman vice president; Mrs. Catherine Wilson, secretary; and Miss Helen McClellan, treasurer.

Four New Building

The association voted to give a scholarship prize to a member of the graduating class, beginning with the first new class to graduate in 1954, and referred details to a committee.

George B. Inskip, supervising principal of the Fairfield Joint School System, traced the growth and development of the Fairfield schools. He cited the many courses now taught compared with the former straight academic subjects; the growth of societies and sports and said that Fairfield compares favorably with schools throughout the state.

Remarks were made by Miss McCreary, class of 1910; Mrs. Gladys Rebert, class of 1914; William

WIND AND HAIL HIT SECTIONS OF MARYLAND

A sudden rain and hail storm ripped through Carroll and Frederick Counties Saturday, blowing down big trees, disrupting telephone connections and tying up traffic.

The "little tornado," as one witness described it, tore a path of destruction across the two counties about 5:30 p.m. and ended as suddenly as it had begun some fifteen minutes later.

Union Bridge Clears Debris
Residents of Union Bridge, near the Carroll - Frederick border, said they had "never seen anything like it" as they went about clearing streets of debris, patching farm roofs and repairing broken windows.

Damage in Frederick County was estimated at $100,000 including ruined crops.

All along the path of the storm, which followed a southwest course through the two counties, farmers and townspeople spoke wonderingly of the large hail stones that fell in their areas.

The stones were variously described as: "big as pullet eggs," "marble-sized and as large as little golf balls."

Judging from local reports, Union Bridge was one of the sections hardest hit.

Farm Buildings Lose Roofs

One witness said roofs of farm buildings had been ripped off and were scattered in pieces over the fields.

In the town itself, large trees, thought to be 100 years old, were uprooted and snapped off by the winds. Two of the trees damaged the roof of the Union Bridge Fire House.

At Tyrone, another Carroll County town about halfway between Westminster and Taneytown, trees were blown across the highways tying up traffic for about an hour.

In Taneytown, telephone connections were temporarily disrupted.

Appointed Head Of Festival Committee

George L. Haenn, R. 1, will serve as the general chairman for the annual festival to be held July 17 and 18 by St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church in July. It was announced Sunday evening at a meeting of the Holy Name Society of the church held at the local parochial school. He will name his assistants.

Additional entertainment for the children was discussed.

Because of Haenn's acceptance of the festival post, he was relieved of a committee to select the society's gift for the church now being renovated. Joseph L. Rosensteel was appointed to succeed him.

James Sneeringer was named chairman of the athletic committee to succeed Vice President Joseph Grable, who asked to be relieved because he is moving to the middle west.

Progress was reported on improvements at the Catholic cemetery.

The society voted to follow the annual custom of dispensing with meetings until September.

COUPLE OBSERVES GOLDEN WEDDING

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom in the style of half a century ago provided the theme for the 50th wedding anniversary party held for Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Conover, 53 W. High St., at the Grace Lutheran Church parish hall, Two Taverns, by their relatives Saturday evening. Other decorations included a lace tablecloth, yellow spring flowers and yellow candles placed in crystal candelabra. Golden rosebud mints surrounded the cake. A large wedding bell was suspended over the table from which cascaded a shower of golden ribbon streamers.

Presiding at the punch table was Miss Eva Jane Schwartz of Littlestown, a great-niece of the celebrants. At the coffee table was Mrs. Charles Slusser, Littlestown, also a great-niece of the Conovers.

A corsage of golden spring flowers was presented to Mrs. Conover and a golden rosebud boutonniere to Mr. Conover. A leather guest book trimmed in gold, containing the names of the 98 relatives in attendance, was given to the celebrants.

Boiling Springs Hi Addition Approved

Plans for an addition to the South Middleton Township High School at Boiling Springs and alterations to the present structure to fit it also for elementary use at a cost of $1,150,000 have been approved by the State Department of Public Instruction.

The project will be financed by the South Middleton Township Authority.

Originally the project was to have cost $718,456, when it was first advanced last August. Changes in the basic plans as required by the state and also mounting costs since that time are responsible for the larger figure, school officials revealed.

NEIGHBORS HELP HOMELESS GROUP

Beartown neighbors are providing a new start for the Clarence Criley family.

A few days ago, the family of six lost everything in a sudden, fierce fire that leveled their log house.

The father, Clarence, a gassed veteran of World War I, is in poor health, unable to work. The mother is employed at the Fairfield Shoe Co. Three children at home, plus a five-year-old granddaughter, had strained the family budget to the breaking point even though the oldest boy, Lorenzo, 15, left school to go to work.

Quietly neighbors in the Beartown community—mostly families in moderate circumstances themselves—set about lending a helping hand to the Crileys.

Looking over the site of the burned house, it was agreed that the cellar and foundation would serve for a new house on the same spot. Besides, there is a good well nearby.

Clean Away Debris
Rolling up its collective sleeves, the community went to work. The debris is being cleared away and soon the walls of a one-story frame house will rise. Lumber is being obtained from a large building bought for the purpose.

Bedding, furniture and dishes—enough to permit the Crileys to go into housekeeping again—have been donated by the entire area. "Everyone has been so generous," said a neighbor who helped with the collection. Waynesboro and Rouzerville residents were among the many whose hearts were touched at the plight of the Crileys.

A dozen young girls of the Sunshine Trail 4-H Club marked National 4-H Club Sunday by presenting the Criley family with a check for $20.

The girls earned the money at a baked goods sale. Mr. and Mrs. Criley and the children have been given refuge at the Beartown community house, formerly a school, until their new house is built.

It probably won't be too long before they can move into that home of their own—thanks to the help of many area residents and especially to the Beartown "good neighbor" policy.

Children Receive Their First Communion On Mother's Day

A class of children received their first Holy Communion at the first mass on Mother's Day in St. Aloysius Catholic Church, when the church was filled to capacity. The First Communion class was composed of Donald Bevenour, John Duttera, Richard Ferree, Edward Hartlaub, Merle Little, John Rang, Michael Sneeringer, Fred Snyder, Sarah Lee Cookson, Victoria Gouker, Esther Klunk, Barbara Long, Earleen Reaver and Judith Wolfe. Candle bearers, pupils of the first grade, who carried lighted candles entwined with lilies of the valley, and escorted the communicants to the altar steps for their first reception, were Laurence Altoff, James Long, Anna Louise Krichen and Patricia Wright.

The pastor, the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan, replaced the instructive sermon with a story for the children, about the famous football coach of Notre Dame, Knute Rockne, and the day he received his first Communion with his small son, who was responsible for the conversion of his father through his good example. Father's final word to the children was "Don't go to heaven alone; take somebody with you by your good example in life." The children's choir sang the traditional hymns "Jesus Thou Art Coming," "Jesus, Jesus Come to Me," "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" and "O God of Loveliness."

Annual Procession
The annual May procession, with the crowning of the Blessed Mother took place in the evening at 7 o'clock. All the children of the school participated in the procession. James Hymiller led the procession as the cross bearer, and Gordon Eckenrode and Joseph Rang, acolytes, were followed by the boys of the school. The girls of the school were dressed in white, with floral wreaths on their heads, and the procession also included the children of the First Communion class, all in white, and the girls wearing veils. The procession left the school and proceeded on S. Queen St., around the church property before entering the church, when the processional hymn "Immaculate Mary" was sung. While the children sang "Hail Virgin Dearest Mary," Sarah Lee Cookson, escorted by Esther Klunk as crown bearer and all the girls of the First Communion class, proceeded to the sanctuary and the floral bedecked shrine in honor of the Blessed Mother. Sarah placed a wreath of flowers as a crown on the head of the statue. Janet Elme read the "Act of Consecration."

The Rev. Father Shanahan paid tribute to Mary, the Mother of God, in a brief sermon, after which the novena prayers in honor of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal were said. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament concluded the service. Mrs. Thomas French was organist for both the morning and evening services.

Father Shanahan announced at the morning masses on Sunday that confessions will be heard on Wednesday from 3 to 3:30 and from 7 to 7:30 p.m., in preparation for the Feast of the Ascension on Thursday, a holy day of obligation. Masses on Thursday will be celebrated at 5:30 and 7:30 a.m. A public party will be held on Saturday evening at 8:15 p.m., in the parish hall, for the benefit of the hall kitchen. Women of the parish are asked to send a cake and candy and all other donations will be appreciated.

4 Teams In League
Four teams will compete in the Littlestown Community Softball League, according to an announcement made following the recent organizing of the league for 1953. The four teams are the Eagles, Harry's, Redeemer's and the Mystic Chain. The twelve-week schedule will begin on Tuesday evening, and games will continue to be played each Tuesday and Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock on the community playground. Rosters of 18 player limits must be in the hands of the president, Elmer W. M. Duttera, by Saturday, May 30. The team finishing first at the end of the scheduled season receives the league trophy. Winner of a three-game playoff between first and second place teams will receive a pennant.

The schedule has been arranged as follows: May 12, Eagles and Harry's; May 14, Redeemer's and Mystic Chain; May 19, Harry's and Redeemer's; May 21, Mystic Chain and Eagles; May 26, Redeemer's and Eagles; May 28, Mystic Chain and Harry's; June 2, Mystic Chain and Redeemer's; June 4, Harry's and Eagles; June 9, Eagles and Mystic Chain; June 11, Redeemer's and Harry's; June 16, Harry's and Mystic Chain; June 18, Eagles and Redeemer's; June 23, Eagles and Harry's; June 25, Redeemer's and Mystic Chain; July 14, Mystic Chain and Eagles; July 16, Harry's and Redeemer's; July 21, Mystic Chain and Harry's; July 23, Redeemer's and Eagles; July 28, Mystic Chain and Redeemer's; July 30, Harry's and Eagles; August 4, Redeemer's and Harry's; August 6, Eagles and Mystic Chain; August 11, Harry's and Mystic Chain; August 13, Eagles and Redeemer's. 16 ACCIDENTAL DEATHS IN PA. OVER WEEKEND

By The Associated Press

Thirteen persons died on Pennsylvania highways over the weekend, four in one accident. A 14th person died in a train mishap. Two men were killed in the crash of a light plane near Oil City.

An automobile driven by Joseph A. Petrusunas Jr., 34, of West Chester collided Saturday night with a Pennsylvania Railroad train at a grade crossing near the PRR station in West Chester. Petrusunas, his wife, Maria, 27, their two-year-old daughter, Marie, and a friend, Mrs. Janet Sherman, 19, of Philadelphia, were killed.

The four victims were tossed out of the auto by the impact of the collision. No one on the train was hurt.

Allentown Women Dies

Two Allentown women were killed yesterday when the car in which they were riding crashed into the concrete wall of a viaduct that carries Route 222 under the Reading Railroad tracks in Trexletown, eight miles south of Allentown.

Killed were Margaret Jane Shifert, 27, and Dolores Stein, 21. Both were hurled out of the front seat of the car.

The driver, Richard Gierse, 37, of Perkasie, and another passenger, were hurt.

Two Men Killed

An hour later, in the same area, two men were killed when their car crashed into the rear of a milk truck in Pennsburg. The dead were driver Paul W. Willegass, 24, and Willard Smoll, 41, both of Red Hill. Another passenger in the car, Paul Schwenk, 34, Red Hill, is in serious condition at Allentown General Hospital.

Six-year-old Thomas E. Sweigart of Ephrata died yesterday in Lancaster General Hospital of injuries suffered in a two-car collision Saturday night five miles north of Lancaster. The boy's parents, Richard and Helen Sweigart, and three persons in the other auto were injured.

Dorothy Kenna, 19, of Hulmeville, near Bristol, was killed early today when police said she jumped or fell from an automobile in Bensalem Township, four miles of Bristol.

Says Girl Jumped

Dr. William Goldfarb, deputy Bucks County coroner, said the driver of the car, Robert Wurst, 19, of Cornwell Heights, told him that he and Miss Kenna had been discussing breaking off their friendship when the girl tossed away a cigarette and he turned to discover "the car door was open, she was gone." Wurst stopped, lifted the girl from the road and took her to a hospital.

A 23-year-old Illinois woman was killed yesterday on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, 12 miles north of McKeesport. The car in which Miss June Edythe Munsterman, of Elmhurst, was riding smashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer. A companion, Ruth H. Titzenthaler, of Lombard, Ill., was injured.

At Uniontown, 19-year-old Donald Guseman, son of the owner of the new Uniontown Speedway, was killed yesterday as his auto overturned during a stock car race.

Fatal Plane Crash

Grover C. Gerhart of Emmaus was killed Saturday night when his automobile skidded on a wet road eight miles north of Easton and crashed into a concrete bridge abutment.

A railroad brakeman, married only three months, was killed by a train yesterday in Philadelphia.

"A BRIGHT TOMORROW"

For every bit of sorrow . . . there's a bit of happiness . . . and for each tear that wets the heart . . . a smile will soon caress . . . for every bit of wrong that's done . . . some right will take its place . . . because the things that count the most . . . will always win the race . . . for wounds of hate . . . true love will heal . . . and drive away the pain . . . just as the sun will always shine . . . and that is why when I am blue . . . I know it won't be long . . . until the bitter notes will fly . . . and leave a happy song.

Emmitsburg

LEGION WOMEN TO GIVE PRIZES

Twenty-five members attended the Emmitsburg American Legion Auxiliary meeting on May 5. Mrs. Carmen Topper, president, presided. The meeting opened with the pledge to the flag and the members sang the "Star Spangled Banner." There will be a food and rummage sale on Saturday, May 23, at 10 o'clock in the Firemen's Hall. Food committee, Charlotte Sanders, Anne Shorb, and Frances Stinson; rummage committee, Anne Topper and Nettie Ashbaugh. The unit voted to sponsor the Emmitsburg High School Senior Prom in June.

The president asks that all committee chairmen submit their annual reports to her by May 12.

Two thousand cod liver oil capsules will be purchased and given to the Health Clinic. Contributions were made to the Cancer Fund and to the cigarette fund for hospitalized veterans. Tuesday, May 12, has been designated as Hospital Day at Fort Howard. Members are urged to visit the hospital on that day.

Members on the refreshment committee for June are: Charlotte Sanders, Anne Topper, Ann Shorb and Madeleine Harner. The next meeting of the unit will be on Tuesday evening, June 2, at 8:30 o'clock.

The victim was John J. Walsh Jr., 24, of Philadelphia. He was dragged along the tracks by a freight train after his clothes became entangled in the undercarriage of a car.

A small plane crashed and burned Saturday, killing John Ruth, 21, of Oil City, and Robert Jones Keefe, 27, of nearby Hill City.

Cause of the crash was not determined. J. Carter McKinney, manager of the Titusville Airport, said Ruth rented the plane a short time before the crash.

Two additional deaths were reported on highways in the Harrisburg area.

Mrs. Emma Gland, 66, Harrisburg was killed in a crash at Camp Hill. She was riding in a car driven by her husband, Harry S. Gland, who was shaken but not injured. State police said the other car was driven by Carl L. Shank, 20, of Waynesboro, a student at Bucknell.

Raymond Palmer, 61, of Linglestown, was held in $2,000 bail on involuntary manslaughter charges in the death of Mrs. Jennie Snyder, about 55, of Harrisburg.

Christian Home Festival Is Held Sunday At Redeemer's; Consider Early Summer Hour

The Festival of the Christian Home was celebrated at the Sunday morning worship service in Redeemer's Reformed Church. The pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, presented a sermon on the subject "The Blessed Home," to the large congregation in attendance. A reading and prayer on "The Family" was read responsively. The gospel lesson was taken from Luke 2:21-52. The Senior choir sang the anthem "God Bless Our Mothers," accompanied by Ferree LeFevre, church organist. An offertory solo, "The Living God," O'Hara, was sung by Charles Shirr, a student at the West Chester State Teachers' College. The altar flowers were placed in memory of Mrs. Laura J. Bankert, by the family. The bulletins were given by Elder Dewey M. Henry in memory of his mother, Mrs. Emma J. Henry.

The pastor announced that in order to avoid the summer heat, many churches are holding their summer worship services at an early hour. The opinion of the congregation is asked concerning the matter, and it is requested that each state his preference on the reverse side of the communion card at the anniversary communion service on May 24. If the congregation so desires, the service can be moved from 10:30 to 8:30 a.m. beginning June 21 and including Labor Day Sunday.

Other announcements were as follows: Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society at the church. This meeting is scheduled for one day later than the usual time, so as not to conflict with The Times cooking school. All children in the Primary and Junior Departments who wish to sing in the Junior choir for the Children's Day service in June must attend the rehearsals held each Wednesday after school. Next Sunday at 10:30 a.m., the preparatory service will be held, so that the anniversary communion can be held on Pentecost "Whit Sunday," which is the festival in honor of the gift of the Holy Spirit. The annual spring rally for the youth of the Mercersburg Synod will be held at Camp Michaux, near Pine Grove Furnace, next Sunday beginning at 3 p.m. The whole family as well as the youth is invited to pack a lunch and attend the afternoon and evening services. Those who desire transportation are asked to contact the minister.

Rotary To Meet

A Mother's Day program will be presented at the weekly meeting of the Littlestown Rotary Club on Tuesday evening, 6:15 p.m., at Schottie's Hotel. Arrangements are in charge of the program committee composed of Paul R. Snyder, chairman, Charles E. Ritter, Mervin Harner, A. W. Schott, A. G. Ealy and Clyde W. Crouse.

A special Mother's Day collection was received for the Home-wood Church Home for the Aged, near Hagerstown, at the Sunday morning service in Christ Reformed Church. The pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons, presented the sermon, and a special anthem was sung by the choir. Harold E. Shoemaker, Philip J. Zepp, Alvin C. Gerick and Wilbert J. H. Messenger served as ushers. The Sunday bulletin was given by Mr. and Mrs. Curvin C. Carbaugh in honor of their 45th wedding anniversary, which they observed yesterday. The altar flowers were presented in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carolyn.

baugh's wedding anniversary, by their children. A potted plant was given by Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Rickrode in honor of Mrs. Rickrode's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haugh.

The Rev. Mr. Koons announced that the Women's Guild is sponsoring a clothing drive for overseas relief. Any good used clothing is acceptable and should be brought to the church next Sunday. The pastor also made it known that there are a few open dates for bulletin sponsors in the near future. Anyone desiring to sponsor a bulletin is asked to contact Harold E. Shoemaker or John N. Sell.

Annual Banquet Tuesday
The annual mother and daughter banquet of Christ Church will be held Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the church grove. The banquet will be served by the men of the congregation and a program will follow. Reservations are in charge of Mrs. Harry C. Wildasin.

The King's Daughters and the Young Men's Bible classes of Christ Church will serve a roast turkey supper in the church grove on Saturday, May 23, from 4:30 to 7 p.m. Supper will be served by ticket only. Tickets may be purchased in advance from any member of the Men's class.

Election of officers will take place at the May meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Centenary Methodist Church on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Albert H. Miller Jr., Hanover R. 1. The nominating committee is composed of Mrs. Jesse Byers, Mrs. Edward Harner and Mrs. Bertha Babylon.

Gets Weekly Award
Mrs. William Rodgers, S. Queen St., received the award at the Appreciation Day program held on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Alton Motter, Elmhurst, Ill., is visiting with her father, Jacob Yealy, at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Yealy, W. King St., and with other relatives and friends in and about the community.

Mrs. Luther Slifer, a missionary, and a native of Gettysburg, was the guest speaker at the Mother's Day program held in Redeemer's Reformed Sunday School on Sunday morning. Mrs. Slifer, who served as a missionary for 17 years in India, three in British Guiana and six in Liberia, spoke concerning life in these countries and displayed articles which she had collected from different parts of the world. Mrs. Slifer added that one of her seven children is now a missionary in Liberia, another a missionary in India.

The program, which was in charge of the Hustlers' class was as follows: Piano prelude, played by Miss Diane Stambaugh; group song, "Living for Others"; Scripture lesson, Mrs. Melvin A. Miller; prayer, Mrs. Melvin Shanebrook; recitation, Bernard Weaver; group song, "My Love I Bring"; reading, Mrs. Lloyd E. Crouse; announcements by the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds; vocal solo, "Mother," Mrs. Clyde W. Crouse, accompanied by Miss Stambaugh; address by Mrs. Slifer; group song, "Memories"; the Lord's Prayer in unison, led by Mrs. Theron W. Spangler. The entire Sunday School was present in the adult department for the program. The committee in charge of securing the speaker was composed of Mrs. L. William Collins, Mrs. P. Bernard Weaver and Mrs. George C. DeHoff.

CE Group Meets
Evelyn Dickinson discussed the topic "Let's Do Things Together" at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church last evening. The Scripture lesson was read by Jeanne Blocher. The C. E. pledge and benediction were repeated in unison by the group. Leonard Potter will be the leader for the meeting next Sunday at 6 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Stultz and children, Jack and Karen, York, visited on Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. Carrie Stultz, and his brother, Richard, N. Queen St.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Scholl and son, Gary, Aberdeen, Md., spent the Mother's Day weekend visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Scholl, S. Queen St., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theron W. Spangler, and family, Patrick Ave.

BOWER CAVE, Mariposa County, Calif. (AP)—Jon Lindbergh, 20-year-old son of famed aviator Charles Lindbergh, has explored and photographed a large underwater cavern in a remote mountain area near Yosemite National Park.

Jon, wearing Navy frogman's gear, swam 150 feet under the waters of a small lake to reach Bower Cave which never before had been explored.

Jon made two dives Saturday into the grotto.

The second time he carried photographic gear in a waterproof bag. He spent more than an hour inside the cavern — described as one of the largest of its kind in the West.

His only link with safety was a thin nylon line attached to his trunks and held by another member of the party. He was accompanied by two members of the Western Speleological Institute, a research organization.

THOSE AMATEUR PROS
I never quite mastered the rough game spoiled by too much free advice.
Those volunteer teachers with whom I have played
Never fully agreed how the shot should be made.
But this I can say—now at ease I recline—
The President's golf seems no better than mine.

I am hoping today that our President knows
The danger of listening to amateur pros.
It may be they're bankers, and parsons who preach,
But out on the golf course they both want to teach.
And to heed them the President now should decline,
Since the scores that he makes are no better than mine.

Whatever his trouble—wide hook or a slice—
I trust he'll beware of too much free advice.
That he's born to instruct every golf player thinks,
Till more teachers than players are now on the links.
If he listens to them, he'll take many a nine,
And never his game will be better than mine.

Today's Talk
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

A GREAT AMERICAN PAINTER

One of the most remarkable exhibitions of paintings on "our fabulous West," by William Robinson Leigh, has recently been shown at the Grand Central Art Galleries, in New York. I have never viewed such a collection of vibrant, virile paintings. The artist is now 86 years of age, many of his finest paintings being recently created in his early eighties!

Leigh was born in West Virginia in 1866. He started studying art at the age of fourteen. For twelve years he worked in Germany, taking the Royal Academy medal six times. At the age of forty he went to western America and devoted his talents to the painting of Indians, cowboys, and animals. His paintings are a story of Arizona, New Mexico, the Dakotas, and the Rocky Mountain region.

The days of the "Wild West" and of the buffalo live anew in great murals as well as in small, simple domestic scenes among the Indians. There is ferocious drama to many of the larger paintings—action, and rare beauty as well. No one, I am sure, has ever painted the colorings to the Grand Canyon as has this great artist. You feel every colorful emotion upon his canvas. Nothing short of genius could have done what he has done.

The painting of Leigh are owned by scores of collectors, including the Duke of Windsor and the late King Albert of the Belgians, and many museums and art galleries proudly own outstanding examples of this great American painter. Some of his finest work is immortalized in the American Museum of Natural History in New York. The space, the sun colorings, and the action displayed in the more powerful paintings of Leigh are unforgettable.

I was especially fascinated by the many examples of domestic scenes in the life of the Navajo and Sioux families. And what sheer beauty in such a painting as "Pony Express by Moonlight." Poetry, drama, tragedy, silent beauty—they are all in the work of this unusual genius. What a worth while life has been that of William Robinson Leigh!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Meaning Into Life"

Sad Calamity—Two Students Drowned: Our town was deeply stirred by a sad calamity at the Springs Hotel on Wednesday evening—the drowning of two Seminary students, Alter Y. Shindel, of Danville, Pa., and Wm. C. Kohler, of Glen Rock. Some of the students of the Seminary have a boating club. Securing control of two boats, they frequently went out for exercise. On Wednesday evening six young men went out to the lake—Messrs. Shindel, Kohler, Charles S. Trump, and W. Rosenstengel, of the Seminary, and V. H. Metzger and G. S. Bowers, of the College. While indulging in some sport, both boats upset. Mr. Rosenstengel, not liking the sport, left the water . . . and met in the grove nearby P. C. Croll and G. W. Fritsch, of the Seminary.

The remaining five got into the boats and rowed toward the southern end where the water is deepest. Shortly afterward shouting came from the lake. . . . Both boats were capsized, Trump, Metzger and Bowers clinging to one of them, while Shindel and Kohler were nowhere to be seen. Mr. J. M. Snyder,

CONGRESSMEN
DISMAYED AT
"CAN'T BALANCE BUDGET" TALK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many Republicans expressed dismay Saturday at Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's statement that the budget can not be balanced next year and that the 275 billion dollar limit on the national debt may have to be raised.

Few wanted to discuss on the record what this did to hopes for a tax reduction soon. But one GOP member of the tax-writing Senate Finance Committee told reporters who sought comment:

"Gentlemen, that's a damned unpleasant subject."

Rumor Tax Message
Another Republican senator said he had "heard rumors" Humphrey's Treasury Department was drafting a tax message to Congress. But he said he did not know what was in it.

Rep. Taber (R-NY), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and long a leader in budget-cutting drives, said he still has hope the budget can be balanced in the year starting July 1.

"I believe we can convince them (administration officials) it will be balanced," Taber said.

Joe Martin's Opinion
House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass) said he does not believe the debt ceiling will have to be raised. He said the fiscal picture "will appear brighter" after Congress has passed on all appropriations.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Appropriations Committee said he has not given up hope of a balanced budget in the new fiscal year.

Humphrey made his statement to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, considering the foreign aid bill for the new fiscal year. It followed by a few days President Eisenhower's remark that a review of the 1954 budget indicated income could not be balanced with outgo.

Touchy Subject
But the Treasury secretary went further. He was quoted as saying at the closed hearing that the budget should not be balanced because that would mean cuts endangering the nation's security. He said more than two-thirds of the budget is for security and about half of the rest is fixed and can not be cut. Then Humphrey raised the touchy issue of boosting the national debt limit of 275 billion dollars. The debt now stands at 265½ billion and was 258½ billion a year ago.

TOUGH JOB TO GET BUDGET
INTO BALANCE

WASHINGTON (AP)—With hope officially abandoned for a balanced budget now, the government may borrow a well-known line from the Brooklyn Dodgers: Just wait 'til next year.

But simple arithmetic showed today that balancing spending with revenue may be painfully difficult even for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1954—14 months away.

Red ink was the underscoring in a look at government finances released yesterday by the staff of the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue.

For the current year, ending June 30, the committee forecast a deficit of $7,300,000,000—almost 1½ billion more than former President Truman estimated in his budget last January.

Truman Expected Deficit
For the year starting July 1, the first full fiscal year of the Eisenhower administration, the committee foresaw a deficit of almost six billion dollars. It assumed Eisenhower would cut five billions from spending planned by Truman, for an outlay of 73½ billion.

That still would keep the government deep in the red. A partial reason is that present tax laws are not bringing in as much revenue as was expected.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, was less optimistic than the committee staff. In a week-end a seminary student, was walking in the grove. Mr. Croll used a bed cord brought by Mrs. Gulden who lives on the Herbst farm to draw ashore Messrs. Trump, Metzger and Bowers.

Mr. Trump had gone a few feet when he began to sink. Mr. Shindel noticing Trump's danger, called to Metzger who is a ready swimmer, to help Trump, which Metzger promptly did, and aid him back to the boat. Meanwhile, Mr. Shindel, who was a good swimmer, proposed to Mr. Kohler (who could not swim) that he would take the latter to shore. They had gone but a short distance, when Mr. Shindel for some unknown reason became exhausted, released his hold on Kohler and both went down nearly together. Mr. Metzger started to their relief, but too late.

A messenger was sent to town for a physician. Several hundred persons flocked to the scene. . . . Arrangements were made to drag the lake, but the bodies were not recovered until nearly 10 o'clock, having been in the water over three hours.

Woman Is Killed
In Sunday Collision

HARRISBURG (AP)—Mrs. Emma Gland, 66, of Harrisburg, riding in a car driven by her husband, was killed in a two-car collision at nearby Camp Hill yesterday.

Her husband, Harry S. Gland, was shaken up but uninjured. Dr. E. A. Haegele, Cumberland County coroner, pronounced Mrs. Gland dead. She suffered internal injuries.

Police said the Gland car collided with another auto driven by Carl L. Shank, 20, of Waynesboro, Pa., a student at Bucknell University. He was not hurt.

FEDERAL SALES TAX EXPLORED

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—A federal sales tax was being explored cautiously Saturday by the nation's top industry executives as a possible bolster for federal revenues if a recession should come.

Members of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, meeting in closed session here with Secretary of Commerce Weeks, conceded that so drastic a change in national tax policy could not be posed for immediate action.

They also voiced, in private conversation, the view that the business outlook is highly favorable for possibly a year ahead, and that any recession caused by dwindling defense outlays will be mild and brief.

But the opinion was widespread—and is understood to be shared by some treasury officials—that present tax policy leans too heavily on individual income and corporate taxes, which might drop sharply in a recession.

One council member remarked that "corporation taxes are really concealed sales taxes, since the consumer ultimately pays them."

16 Year Old Girl
Crushed To Death

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 16-year-old girl was crushed to death and a man was critically injured yesterday when a 70-pound stone fell on them while they sat on the steps of the girl's home.

The dead girl was Bertha Alfred. She was sitting in front of her home with Thomas Robinson, 27, when the stone fell. Robinson was taken to Temple Hospital, with head, back and leg injuries.

Occupants of the third floor said the stone had been loose for some time. They said they had planned to notify the landlord about it.

The famous schooner yacht, America, first winner of the America's Cup, was planked largely with teak.

Although there are four main human blood groups, it is estimated that blood-group factors are capable of 132,710,400 different combinations.

Interview, he predicted that "unless changes are made" in spending plans, the deficit in the coming fiscal year will be from 9 to 11 billion dollars. . . . Truman, recommending more spending than the Eisenhower administration now plans, had figured the deficit at $9,900,000,000.

STASSEN AND DULLES REACH
CAIRO ON TOUR

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen arrived by plane here today for the first stop on a 12-nation "information" tour of the Middle and Near East.

But their chief missions seemed concerned with the problems in the area of two U. S. allies—Britain and Israel. Awaiting the two top officials of President Eisenhower's administration was a solid front of Arab opposition to British and Israeli desires.

The British hoped that prodding from the American visitors would spur resumption of their own negotiations with the Egyptians, recessed Wednesday and without a resumption date set, on the future of the Suez Canal zone.

Egypt's Prime Minister Mohammed Naguib, however, in a speech yesterday charged the British were trying "to impose a disguised occupation on Egypt" and warned that his country is ready to pay "with the hot blood of her sons" for independence.

The "occupation" charge referred to Britain's desires to keep a sizable corps of technicians at the big military facilities she has built in the canal zone after she withdraws her troops. Unless this is permitted, Britain says, she won't take her troops out.

MAID'S DEATH IS SUSPICIOUS

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Police today are looking into what was described as "suspicious circumstances" in the drowning of a 62-year-old domestic.

The body of Mabel E. Hassenplugh, of Spring Mills, Pa., was recovered from the Kishacoquillas Creek late Saturday. E. Dale Fisher, deputy Mifflin County coroner, said an autopsy showed she died of drowning.

He added that at first it was thought the case was suicide but that "suspicious circumstances" had been uncovered. They included two puncture wounds found on the woman's body, he said.

The woman's body was dragged from two feet of water after a passerby phoned police that some object was caught among some rocks in midstream.

Mrs. Leslie Knepp, of McClure R. D. 2, a niece of the victim, told police she had worked in homes of the Lewistown area for some time.

Police said the dead woman had been seen last Monday.

Baby Drowns In Creek Near Hershey

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Joseph R. Hartl Jr., 22-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Hartl Sr. of Lancaster, drowned yesterday in Spring Creek near Hershey Park.

His body was discovered by a passing bus driver a few hours after he was discovered missing by his parents.

C. M. Wallace of Hummelstown, deputy Dauphin County coroner, found death due to accidental drowning. He said the boy may have fallen in the water from a retaining wall or boat landing.

Washington Twp.
Rejects Jointure

The Washington Township School board Friday night voted overwhelmingly against a secondary jointure with the Waynesboro school district and then picked a teacher from the ranks, Thomas A. Clugston, for the newly-created job of supervising principal.

The board voted 4 to 1 against jointure "at this time," and the decision was applauded by a majority of 300 patrons, teachers and pupils assembled in the auditorium of the Hooversville High School to learn firsthand the directors' decision.

Further reflecting the sentiment of the people were two petitions placed at their disposal. One recommending jointure was signed by only three persons and the other, opposing jointure, was signed by 293.

Nearly 200 physicians were on duty at the U. S. Bureau of Indian Affairs hospitals and dispensaries in 1952.

Mrs. Leslie Knepp, of McClure R. D. 2, a niece of the victim, told police she had worked in homes of the Lewistown area for some time.

Police said the dead woman had been seen last Monday.

HEART MASSAGE FAILS TO SAVE LIFE OF GIRL

MT. HOLLY, N. J. (AP)—A 19-year-old college girl died today in Burlington County Hospital despite emergency heart massage efforts by her brother, a student at Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia.

The victim, Joanne Leonberg of Medford, a freshman at Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, collapsed while working at a refreshment stand she operated on Route 70, a half mile west of Medford.

Her mother, Ethel, 48, summoned Dr. R. Winfield Betts, Medford police surgeon, and Stanley Leonberg Jr., the girl's brother.

Dr. Betts, a neighbor of the Leonbergs' and their family physician, decided extreme measures were required to save the girl's life.

Two Take Turns
Betts and the brother took turns massaging the girl's heart through a hastily made chest incision while she was rushed to the hospital in the Medford first aid squad ambulance.

Stanley said he felt his sister's heart respond to his massage during the trip but that its motion lasted only a few minutes.

At the hospital Dr. Lindley D. Reagen of Moorestown, staff thoracic surgeon, and Dr. Robert Murphy, hospital anaesthetist, joined Betts and Leonberg in the life-and-death struggle.

A few minutes after admission, her heart began to flutter weakly and physicians thought there still was hope for her recovery. She was transferred from the accident ward to the operating room and a call was sent to Dr. John Storer, resident thoracic surgeon at Hahnemann.

To Perform Autopsy
The Philadelphia surgeon arrived at the hospital shortly after midnight and went directly to the operating room.

A short time later, Leonard came down from the operating room to announce to newsmen that his sister had died.

"Everything that could have been done was done," he said. Young Leonberg said his sister had shown no symptoms of a heart ailment. He said she had played hockey and other sports at Mt. Holly High School from which she was graduated last June.

Coroner Russel M. Stoddard of Burlington County said an autopsy will be performed, at the family's request.

WINS $190 GOLF PRIZE

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., won $190 as he placed 22nd with a 295 four-round score in the Ardmore Open Golf Tournament.

Wall had rounds of 74, 69 and 72 to start, but blew himself to an 80 yesterday finishing 13 strokes behind winner Earl Stewart Jr., of Dallas.

Tail Wind Helps Plane Escape Blast

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A lucky tailwind was credited today with saving an Aeromex Airliner from the explosion of a mysterious air-mail package the plane had brought to Mazatlan, on Mexico's Pacific coast.

There was no official explanation yet of the explosion Saturday, but some sources speculated it had been a time bomb designed to blow up the plane.

The plane carrying the package and 14 passengers Saturday arrived in Mazatlan 30 minutes ahead of schedule, due to the tailwind. After unloading the mail, the plane took off. The package exploded 10 minutes later, killing two porters and the airport manager.

Motorist Is Held In Woman's Death

HARRISBURG (AP)—Raymond Palmer, 61, of nearby Linglestown, was held in $2,000 bail on charges of involuntary manslaughter today in the death of Mrs. Jennie Wert Snyder, about 55.

Mrs. Snyder was struck by a car and killed along Route 22 in suburban Harrisburg late Saturday. She was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. John Fritchey, deputy Dauphin County coroner.

Palmer told police he believed

Mrs. Snyder was standing in the middle of Route 22 and he did not see her until his car hit her.

A coroner's inquest was scheduled for May 27.

President Enjoys Golfing And Fishing With Brother; Mamie Will Crown Queen

By BEN FRENCH
STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (P)—This college town was recovering today from the thrill of playing host to President Eisenhower, and the nation's first lady was still here to prolong the excitement.

The President left nearby Altoona Airport last night by plane for Washington after two days of golfing, fishing and general relaxation. He was the guest of his youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the Pennsylvania State College.

Mrs. Eisenhower stayed on to crown Miss Penn State, a campus beauty queen, tonight at the opening of the six-day spring week festivities. She had an afternoon appointment at a local beauty parlor to put the famous bangs in order.

As he left the chief executive expressed thanks for "two wonderful days."

"Two Wonderful Days"
"I have had two wonderful days in Centre County and am appreciative of everyone's friendliness," he said. "I am grateful, also, for their courtesy in permitting me the privilege of complete relaxation."

The President capped his week end with an 80-minute, 52-mile drive to the airport. A 17-car caravan threaded its way over back country paved roads under a blazing sun.

Winding through the Allegheny Mountains the presidential party had a good look at the winter wheat, freshly plowed fields and budding spring foliage of the Pennsylvania countryside.

About 1,000 persons at the airport received a goodbye wave as the President boarded his private plane, the Columbine.

Town and college officials praised the community's behavior in permitting the President to spend a quiet week end. They hoped that the restrained welcome put on for the Eisenhowers would make them want to return often.

First Presidential Visit
There were many signs that the President had one of his most pleasant week ends since taking office.

He caught his first presidential fish—an estimated 20 to 25 trout, hooked on his favorite dry flies. He proudly displayed three of the half dozen speckled beauties he decided to keep. All were over 15 inches long and weighed at least three pounds.

"Had a wonderful time," the beaming chief executive told newsmen after Saturday's four-hour fishing excursion to the private stream of Robert L. Harpster, a Phillipsburg businessman, 14 miles west of here. A fish fry took place on the banks of Spring Creek.

Charles A. French, state fish commissioner, supplied the President with a special Pennsylvania fishing license.

"Excellent Caster"
Prof. George Harvey, Penn State's nationally-known fishing expert, termed the President "an excellent caster—shows real ability." Harvey and Harpster joined the Eisenhower brothers in the fishing party.

And the President indicated he had a pleasant 15 holes of golf at

New Oxford Man Is Held In Frederick

A charge of robbery has been lodged at Frederick against Walter L. Wetzel, of near New Oxford, who was returned to Frederick from Adams County Jail last week to face an assault and battery warrant. The charges involve an alleged attack by Wetzel on Gilbert F. Rains, of Frederick, in the hilly Centre Hills Country Club with brother Milton and Wilmer E. Kenworthy, college director of student activities.

The caddies—22-year old Milton Eisenhower Jr., Franklin S. Kelly of Philadelphia and Richard M. Tomb of Johnstown—declined to mention the President's score. They said he called it quits after 15 holes because of his crowded schedule.

The Eisenhowers were serenaded Saturday night by the 50-man Penn State Glee Club and attended campus chapel services yesterday morning in the college auditorium. Other than that, the President spent the time chatting with his brother's family.

To Judge Queen
An aide said they undoubtedly discussed Milton's forth-coming trip to South America as the President's special good-will ambassador.

Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, are expected to return to Washington early tomorrow morning after tonight's ceremonies in Recreation Hall. The first lady is one of five judges who will select the queen from five finalists. She also will do the actual crowning.

Finalists are Mary Elizabeth Braun, Pittsburgh; Sheila Rosen-son, Elizabeth, N. J.; Kathryn L. Lloyd, Shamokin; Madeline Sharp, Herndon, Va., and Sara A. Upde-graff, New Cumberland.

North Market Street School yard, Frederick, on the night of November 1. Rains claimed he was knocked unconscious and $140 and a ring were stolen.

Wetzel had been serving time at Gettysburg on another charge and was turned over to Frederick police when he completed that sentence. Lieut. Frank Dorsey made the investigation. Wetzel's bond has been set at $2,000 and he is in jail for grand jury action.

Speedway Owner's Son Killed In Race

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (P)—Donald Guseman, 19-year-old son of the owner of the new Uniontown Speedway, was killed yesterday as his auto overturned during a stock car race.

The victim's father, William Guseman, a coal operator and proprietor of the Sycamore Hotel near here, was among the 4,000 persons who witnessed the mishap. Young Guseman was thrown out of his machine after failing to negotiate a curve during the 25 lap feature race over the quarter mile track.

AT JAYCEE CONVENTION
John Hoffman, Richard Karns, Eugene Cromer and Garth Le-

fever were in Pittsburgh Friday and Saturday for the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce representing the Dillsburg Jaycees. Branch-Rickey of the Pittsburgh Pirates was one of the principal speakers. The Dillsburg group returned early Sunday morning.

SELL PROPERTY
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Ash have sold to Mr. and Mrs. Carroll R. Eyer a tract of five and half acres and improvements located about one mile south of Emmitsburg on the north side of the Thurmont Rd., consideration being around $7,500, according to a deed filed at Frederick.

Six Officers

Cohens until February, when they were sent to Castillon, in Southern France, near Bordeaux. They embarked for "home" from Bordeaux, arriving in the United States on May 19, 1919. The six officers here over the weekend represented widely diversified occupations.

Lt. Jones attended Ogden College in Kentucky before the war and an osteopathic college, and entered upon the practice of osteopathy immediately after his discharge from the army at Macon, Ga.

Lt. Felton entered the investment business, which he followed for several years. He is now president of the Ardmore Emblem Co., manufacturers of insignia of all kinds. He has numerous customers in Gettysburg.

Paints Portraits

Lt. Mock, the artist of the group, was a commercial artist for many years. He was for several years with the old Philadelphia Ledger and later the Record. In recent year he has devoted his time exclusively to portrait painting, in which he has won wide renown. Many of his pictures are hanging in various art galleries.

Lt. Johnson has been with the Lunt Silversmiths of Greenfield, Mass., ever since his war years, and is now works manager. He was branch manager and salesman before taking this position. He also has customers in this area, among them the Blocher Jewelry store in Gettysburg.

Lt. Frisbie is circulation manager of the Ft. Dodge, Iowa, Messenger. He has been with the Messenger Printing Co. for more than 30 years.

Lt. Wylie is now manager of the Wiebold Department store in Chicago. For 21 years he was engaged in the stock and bond business.

The reunion was strictly an informal affair, with no banquets, and no election of officers, but plans were discussed for a reunion in 1955 of the entire company. Efforts will be made during the next two years to contact every living man who trained with this unit at Camp Colt, officers and enlisted men.

Among former friends of the various officers who visited them at the Hotel Gettysburg during their stay here were Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner and the Misses Grace and Martha Sachs.

Week Of Decision In General Assembly For Sales Tax Bill; Leader Has No Alternate Plan

HARRISBURG (AP)—For the sixth straight week the General Assembly convened today with the sales tax issue topping the agenda—and once again this is billed as the week of decision.

"This week ought to tell the tale, one way or another," said Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, the Senate Republican leader.

"I think the House will be in shape for a roll call on it this week," he declared, adding he still believes there are plenty of votes to get a House-passed sales tax through the Senate.

"It's a sales tax or nothing; I don't want to even think of any alternate tax program because I don't know of any alternate program that could get a majority vote."

Haven't Given Up

House Speaker Charles C. Smith held out hope for House passage of the one per cent sales measure but declined to say whether he thinks this is the week it will reach the floor.

"The whole thing is still up in the air but we haven't given up. We're going to try and pass it no matter where we get the votes."

If the Republicans can round up enough support for the sales tax in caucus it would be brought to the floor. Last week a caucus show of hands left the GOP from four to six shy of the necessary 105.

And today the GOP was forced to give up hope of getting help from at least one Democrat.

Rep. Lawrence Conner (D-Delaware), after completing an unusual poll of his constituents in Chester, said he "will continue to oppose" a sales tax.

Says People Oppose

"I have heard from the people of Chester and surrounding areas and they are overwhelmingly opposed to the imposition of a sales tax," he decided after receiving more than 1,000 calls between Friday noon and Sunday night.

He had promised to vote on the question in whatever way the opinion poll turned out.

The 98-member Democratic minority is pledged to remain intact against a sales levy.

The poll influenced Conner to "feel duty-bound to call upon my colleagues from Delaware County to abandon party lines and join the ranks of those who reflect the voice of the people."

Delaware's other three House members are Republicans.

Meanwhile, there was talk that this week's session would be extended if there was any likelihood of cleaning up the tax situation. Mahany said he was recommending to the Senate caucus a resolution to adjourn the session by the first or second week of June.

Near Convention Time

"You know, we start running into conventions then and the hotels won't have any place for us. We almost have to get out for good or else recess until after Labor Day—and I don't like to think about that," he said.

"Once the tax situation is cleaned up and we meet the needs of the budget we won't have any trouble in clearing up the rest of the work."

The assembly has been meeting two or three days weekly while the Republican leadership tries to line up the votes necessary to pass the sales tax.

The whole problem is to raise the 157 million dollars in extra revenue Gov. John S. Fine estimates is needed to balance his record $1,400,000,000 budget for the next two years.

House and Senate GOP leaders were supposed to continue meetings on the tax problem with Gov. Fine this week. Two days of talks last week failed to bring any solution.

In another week-end development Maurice Splain Jr., state Democratic chairman, charged the tax muddle is due to Republican "lack of leadership."

Answering statements made by State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, state GOP chairman, which blamed the Democratic party for setting out to wreck the Pennsylvania school system through opposition to a sales tax, Splain asserted:

"The Republican party has long had a majority in both branches of the General Assembly and could have enacted a sound financial program for the state long before this if it were ready to exercise its leadership in a respectable manner."

Up for a decision in the Senate this week is a Chesterman Committee proposal to switch the State Planning Board and State Aeronautics Commission from the Commerce Department to the Department of Internal Affairs. The Senate already has voted to abolish the Commerce Department but the House has not acted on the proposal.

MOUNTAINEERS EDGE CATHOLIC

A wild pitch with the bases loaded in the last half of the 10th inning allowed Frank Tumulty to race home with the winning run as Mt. St. Mary's College baseball team edged Catholic University 2-1 at Emmitsburg, Saturday.

The game developed into a brilliant pitchers' duel between Bill Clarke of the Mount and Andy Valent of Catholic U. Clarke fanned 15 and yielded four hits, Valent yielded but two infield hits but was relieved in the 10th after he walked Dawes and Smith to load the bases. Wilson, who relieved Valent, then tossed the wild pitch.

The Mounts, now 6-6 for the campaign, meet American U. today at Washington.

2 AMERICANS AMONG 18 DEAD IN TRANSPORT PLANE CRASH

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—An Air India C47 transport plane crashed in flames on Saturday carrying 18 persons to their deaths. The victims included two Americans—one, a school teacher whose two companions died a week ago in another tragic air crash.

The two American victims were identified as Miss Pauline Lehman, 26, of Mountain Lake, Minn., and Ramchand Watumull, 40, of Honolulu, an Indian-born member of a wealthy Hawaiian family.

Their two-engine plane went down shortly after it took off here into a summer monsoon storm on a routine five-hour flight to Bombay. The crash came within a week after 43 persons, including three Americans, died last Saturday in the crash of a British jet Comet airliner near Calcutta.

Miss Lehman and two of the Americans killed in last Saturday's tragedy had embarked on a pleasure-bound world tour after completing exchange teaching assignments in Rangoon, Burma.

The young Minnesota school teacher, who had started the trip alone with a tour of India, had been scheduled to meet her two friends—Miss Jean S. Cohen of Baltimore, Md., and Miss Anita Whistler of Berkeley, Calif.—here last Saturday.

She was awaiting them in a hotel lobby when she heard of their tragic deaths.

Was Headed Home

"She decided it was just fate that they had died," other teacher companions said today. She booked passage herself for home via Bombay and Cairo. The companions, who helped her take her baggage to the airport bus last night, said she had no fear of flying but had lost heart in doing any sightseeing on the way home.

Scores Taken Ill After HS Banquet

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—Scores of high school students became ill at the Anniston High School Junior-senior banquet late Friday night and were taken to the Anniston Memorial Hospital.

Food poisoning was blamed as about 100 violently nauseated youngsters, including girls in pretty evening dresses and boys in dinner jackets, were brought to the hospital.

Some appeared very sick but doctors and nurses were too busy to say whether any were seriously ill.

PLANT OWNER SHOOTS SELF

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A 56-year-old hosiery company executive was wounded fatally on his estate at nearby Chadds Ford Friday night, shortly after receiving his first instructions on firing a pistol.

The victim, James H. Kann, owner of the Wilmington Hosiery Co., Wilmington, Del., died in Chester County Hospital several hours after an employee found him lying on the floor of his garage with a bullet through his head.

Pvt. Reynolds Comstock of the State Police said Kann, a bachelor, lived on the estate with Robert Morris, 25, and a Japanese servant, Keikido Obuchi.

Comstock said Kann had Morris purchase a .38-caliber pistol several days ago because Kann wanted to learn how to use it for target shooting.

Morris said he and his employer

The other dead in today's crash were listed as three German engineers, a Briton, a Dane, a Thai-lander, a member of India's parliament and other Indians. Thirteen of those aboard were passengers, five were crewmen.

Airline officials said the fire apparently broke out in an engine shortly after the Douglas-built transport lifted into the air. Flames swept back over the plane as the pilot attempted to make an emergency landing.

"BRAIN WASH," "PHONY BREAK" ARE INVOLVED IN RED SESSION

WASHINGTON (AP)—The published record of the hot word battle between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Editor James Wechsler is a crossfire of charges of "brain washing" and a "phony break" with communism.

The stenographic transcript, released Thursday by the Senate investigations subcommittee McCarthy heads, details the April 24 and May 5 hearings at which the senator and the newsman denounced each other behind closed doors.

McCarthy has insisted he questioned Wechsler, not as the editor of The New York Post which has criticized him editorially, but as an author whose writings are in U. S. information libraries abroad. McCarthy says those writings do not show Wechsler broke with communism 16 years ago.

Wechsler contends he has shown by many acts and writings that he has been a vigorous anti-Communist since he quit the Young Communist League in 1937 at the age of 22. Wechsler says McCarthy is out to get him as a newspaperman who opposes the senator in print.

Not Convinced

"Your purported reformation," McCarthy told Wechsler in the hearing transcript, "does not con-went into a field on the 200-acre estate after dinner Friday night and practiced for an hour, returning to the garage at sundown.

Morris said he saw Kann step behind an automobile and then heard the shot. He summoned Obuchi and then telephoned the Talleyville, Del., Fire Co. ambulance, which took Kann to the hospital.

vince me at all."

"Senator, let's face it," Wechsler told McCarthy at one point, "you are saying that an ex-Communist who is for McCarthy is a good one and that an ex-Communist who is against McCarthy is suspect."

Throughout the hearings, the record shows, McCarthy stuck to his accusation that Wechsler made a "phony break" with communism, and Wechsler maintained that McCarthy was engaged in "brain washing" to intimidate the press.

Wechsler told McCarthy he will ask the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) to study the transcript and then decide whether McCarthy's purpose in calling him as a witness was to intimidate editorial critics.

McCarthy said: "I hope they . . . investigate your abuse of freedom of the press and your low ethical standards as a newspaperman."

The record showed signs of discord within the subcommittee. One member, Sen. Symington (D-Mo), repeatedly defended Wechsler and once told him:

"I want to say that you have been the most forthright witness formerly interested in the Communist party or a member of it that we have had before this committee."

The record showed Symington, McCarthy and Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) were the members present on May 5, and McCarthy, Jackson and Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) on April 24.

MUMMASBURG—Mrs. Guy Fidler accompanied the Kitchenettes of Biglerville, of which she is a member, to the apple blossom festival at Winchester, Va., last week.

Wechsler, on McCarthy's orders to name every person he knew to be a Communist or a Young Communist League member in the 1930's, handed over a list of names.

List is Omitted

The list was omitted from the transcript but only after a sizzling debate in which McCarthy reserved the right to make it public later.

Symington served notice he would resist any such move. Wechsler argued that publication might hurt "innocent people" without serving any useful purpose.

Wechsler filed copies of editorials and articles he has written, and of articles in Communist newspapers denouncing his writings.

Wechsler said he fought "the attempt of the Communists to run Henry Wallace for President in 1948 and to capture control of the liberal movement . . ."

DAVIS TRIES TO STORM PALACE; NOW IN HOSPITAL

LONDON (P)—Armed with knapsack, typewriter and briefcase, "One-worler" Garry Davis invaded Buckingham Palace Friday to ask Queen Elizabeth to let him stay in England. He only got as far as the front yard where a policeman nabbed him.

Davis was taken to a police station and later removed to St. Pancras Hospital. A Scotland Yard spokesman said Davis was being detained for mental observation.

Davis, 31, is a U. S. World War II veteran who renounced his American citizenship in 1948 to become "world citizen No. 1."

Davis' action puzzled British authorities. He wanted to hand the monarch a petition for extension of his residence permit. Such pleas generally are given to the Home Office, and the Queen acts only on her ministers' advice.

Bandleader's Son
Davis, son of American society bandleader Meyer Davis of Philadelphia, renounced his American citizenship some time ago to become "a citizen of the world." Recently he attempted to re-establish his U. S. citizenship.

He played here in the drama "Stalag 17" which closed after a brief run in a West End theater. His residence permit for Britain expired April 28.

With the statement "everyone has freedom of movement and of residence," he sent a petition to the Queen last week asking to stay in Britain.

Getting no answer, he camped out in front of Buckingham Palace Thursday, sitting with his back to a sentry shelter and typing more documents for the Queen. A lot of spectators watched him but the police guards paid no attention. Friday he decided to bring matters to a head. He dashed through the palace gates while the policeman on duty there had his back turned momentarily.

The precise - marching Scots guards on sentry duty did not look at him.

Oppose Red Choice For U. N. Position

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (P)—The Russians were reported today by a Moscow correspondent to be opposing the choice of Semyon K. Tsarapkin, a triple-threat expert on the United States, the U. N. and the Far East, for the $22,000-a-year post of assistant secretary-general for Security Council affairs.

The Russians fondly regard that place as their own, since it was agreed at the London preparatory conference in 1945 they could have it, and two Russians have occupied it so far.

U. N. sources say no one wants to take the job away from Moscow or to try and shift another nationality into the spot. But these sources express doubts that Tsarapkin is the man for the job. They say the U. N. should have a man who rates higher than Tsarapkin. He is an alternate delegate.

DEMANDS END TO MONOPOLY

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The Sun Oil Co. has called on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to end what it terms the "one-company monopoly system" in the sale of gasoline on new turnpike extensions.

C. A. Sparks, Sun's regional sales manager wrote Commission Chairman Thomas J. Evans on Thursday that the commission should "open the door to free, healthy competition."

Parks said the commission's system of granting exclusive rights to a single supplier (Gulf Oil Co.) created gasoline monopolies on various sections of the turnpike.

No Choice Of Gas
"Under the one-company monopoly system the motorist is denied the freedom of choice to which he has become accustomed and is also denied the benefits of competition," Sparks said.

Sparks' letter rejected for Sun an invitation to bid for the gasoline

SEN. STENNIS WILL FIGHT AIR FORCE SLASHES

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) spoke up for the Air Force today as general lawmakers, gloomy over the prospect of an unbalanced budget, picked foreign aid as the most obvious target for economy.

Stennis said in an interview he will not vote to cut Air Force funds even if the budget stays unbalanced, as Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has said it must in the next fiscal year.

Stennis, a member of the armed services committee, said:

"I was trying to help balance the budget once and voted to cut the Air Force and then the Korean War came along. I'm a burned child on that score and never again. I am more and more convinced that our military power has got to be in the air."

See Air Force Cut

The Eisenhower administration has recommended that request for new military appropriations be cut $5,100,000,000 below proposals made by former President Truman for the fiscal year starting July 1. Air and Navy programs were cut, but the Army was increased because of the addition of supplies for Korea.

Members of Congress have said this decision probably will mean that the Air Force's buildup goals concession on the Delaware River Turnpike Extension.

"Although this particular invitation for bids involves merely the erection of three service stations and the provision of restaurant service on a 32-mile extension from the King of Prussia to the Delaware River near Bristol, Pa., we oppose the monopolistic provisions in the invitation to bid, as a matter of principle," Sparks wrote.

Opinions Differ

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said on an NBC television program yesterday that the defense budget cut would result in a "more modern" Air Force by the end of the year.

But Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), on the same program, said it would cut plane procurement in half.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader, has said he frankly doesn't know whether further reductions can be made in the military funds. As an advocate of strong airpower, however, he is expected to seek for economies elsewhere.

About seven per cent of U. S. men of draft age are ineligible for military service because of eye defects.

ALLIED TRUCE DELEGATES ASK PLAN ON FINAL FATE OF POW'S

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Allied truce delegates today asked the Communists to advance a plan for final determination of the fate of war prisoners refusing to return to Red rule.

At today's 53-minute meeting, the U.N. Command said an eight-point Communist proposal for prisoner exchange still left the threat of indefinite captivity hanging over 48,500 North Korean and Chinese Reds.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., senior U.N. delegate, said there was no guarantee that a political conference could settle the prisoner question as the Communists urged.

Many Questions, One Answer
After the meeting had adjourned until 11 a.m. Tuesday, Harrison stood in a driving rain outside the crude conference hut and told correspondents that of the barrage of questions he has asked the Reds, only one has been answered satisfactorily.

He recalled they had said a majority vote would decide differences among the five neutrals proposed by the Communists as custodians of prisoners refusing to return home.

The Communists have proposed that a five-nation commission supervise such prisoners for four months. After that period—and after Communist representatives had "explained" things to the soldiers—the fate of those still unwilling to return would be settled by a political conference.

"What then," Harrison asked

48 Mine Pickets Held In Slaying

CLAY, W. Va. (AP)—Forty-eight mine pickets were housed in two jails 40 miles apart today to await a week-end hearing on charges of murdering a 29-year-old nonstriking miner.

The 48 crowded into Magistrate Belle Hamrick's office yesterday and stood grim-faced and silent while a state trooper read the single warrant charging them in the shooting of Charles Frame last Thursday.

Prosecutor James Reed said all 48 were charged because none of them would individually admit firing the shots that killed Frame.

Frame was slain in a burst of gunfire about 4 a. m. while he and other nonstrikers were patrolling the area. Three others were wounded.

No Instructions On Tongay Funeral

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla. (AP)—Two days after funeral services for Kathy Tongay, 5-year-old swimming star, the Vinson Funeral Home still waited today for instructions for the burial.

Kathy's father, Russell Tongay, who is accused of beating the child to death, left town quietly after the ceremony and his whereabouts today were unknown. He is free in $5,000 bond on a second degree murder charge. A preliminary hearing is set for June 18.

Monday, "Is your further proposal for the ultimate solution of this problem if the political conference cannot arrive at a settlement?" North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, didn't answer, but stuck to earlier contentions that any such problem could be settled by a political conference.

VET ESCAPES VA HOSPITAL; CAUGHT BY 200

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—The Veterans Administration Hospital took steps today to guard against escapes similar to a week-end escapade in which a 22-year old Korean War veteran broke through a window and clambered onto a seventh floor ledge where he cavorted for hours.

Hundreds of horror stricken persons watched Joseph Spiegel, 22, of McKeesport, Pa., skip along the four-foot ledge. It was nearly 10 hours after he cut through a mesh window in the psychiatric ward that he was captured yesterday. When he wasn't on the ledge he clambered to the roof of the eight-story hospital.

Lured To Penthouse
While on the roof Spiegel armed himself with sharp steel pieces broken from a lightning rod. Officials feared to approach him, believing he might plunge 125 feet to the ground.

Finally, Spiegel was lured into a penthouse on the roof by a pretext that a Mother's Day phone call would be placed for him. Just as police began to close in on him, he brushed them aside and ran down eight flights of stairs to the ground floor.

After fleeing through an unguarded entrance, Spiegel was trapped in a field by a cordon of nearly 200 spectators who formed a huge semicircle. He was subdued quickly without injury.

Bucknell President Resigns Position

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Horace A. Hildreth, president of Bucknell University four years, has submitted his resignation in order to become U. S. ambassador to Pakistan.

In notifying the board of trustees of his action Saturday, the former governor of Maine said he was resigning "to make myself available for the work of the secretary of state, an assignment of duties on behalf of my country."

Dr. Hildreth was nominated to the Middle East post last week but his appointment has not yet been considered by the Senate. He will appear before a Senate committee for questioning tomorrow.

The trustees took no action on his resignation as head of Bucknell but put off a decision until June. The resignation would be effective "at the pleasure of the board."

VOTE IT'S YOUR DUTY

Regardless of your party affiliation, individual belief, or favorite candidate, the primary election is your best opportunity to select the men who will administer your government.

Do not be misguided by those who may attempt to dictate your choice of candidates but instead vote as your conscience guides. How you vote is your own secret, so use this privilege wisely, as you see fit—but by all means use it.

As a candidate for the Republican nomination for Adams County Treasurer, I, of course, would appreciate your vote, but in any event, please vote.

Do your best to nominate a ticket worthy of your conscience and you have done your duty.

Take the wheel and a new world is yours

Wire wheel covers, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

Two things stand out above all others in this Golden Anniversary ROADMASTER.

It is the most beautiful Buick Riviera ever built.

It is the most brilliant Buick performer in fifty great years.

The first of these is an obvious truth that you learn at initial sight of this automobile's sweeping lines, its gracious styling, its stunning interior fashioning.

The second is one you discover when motion begins and the wonderful new experience unfolds.

You soar from standstill to legal speed as you never have before—for Twin-Turbine Dynaflo gives you getaway with a combined swiftness, silence and smoothness no other car in the world can equal.

You command the highest, the silkiest, the most instantly responsive power in all Buick history—from the world's newest and most advanced V8 engine—the first Fireball V8.

You ride with the gentle, constantly level cushioning of coil springing at all four wheels. You guide your two-ton automobile with the exquisite ease of Power Steering. You slow or halt with the velvety control of still finer braking—plus the extra comfort of Power Brakes* if you wish.

Surely, this rich new world of motoring magnificence is one you should explore—if only to know that it's real, and more easily reachable than you may think.

We'll be happy to seat you at the wheel of this superb new ROADMASTER—and let your emotions and good sense judge its greatness. Won't you visit us this week?

*Optional at extra cost.

Garden And Building News

Rooms Eight
Bedrooms Three
Closets Nine
Cubage: House 16,800 ft.
Garage 4,500 ft.
Dimensions 28' x 24'

The main house, which would be the part constructed first if "Larkspur" is to be built in stages, measures 28x24. Overall dimensions, including the right or living room wing, the attached garage and the laundry, are 78x29.

An attractively designed exterior adds to the appeal of "The Larkspur": a combination brick and shingled exterior finish, as used in the illustration, is very effective. You can, of course, use just shingles or clapboard with equally successful results.

Extensive use of blinds, both at the many windows and at the front entrance, give a homey, old-time quality to the appearance of this house. Two chimneys also add an extra decorative touch to the house exterior.

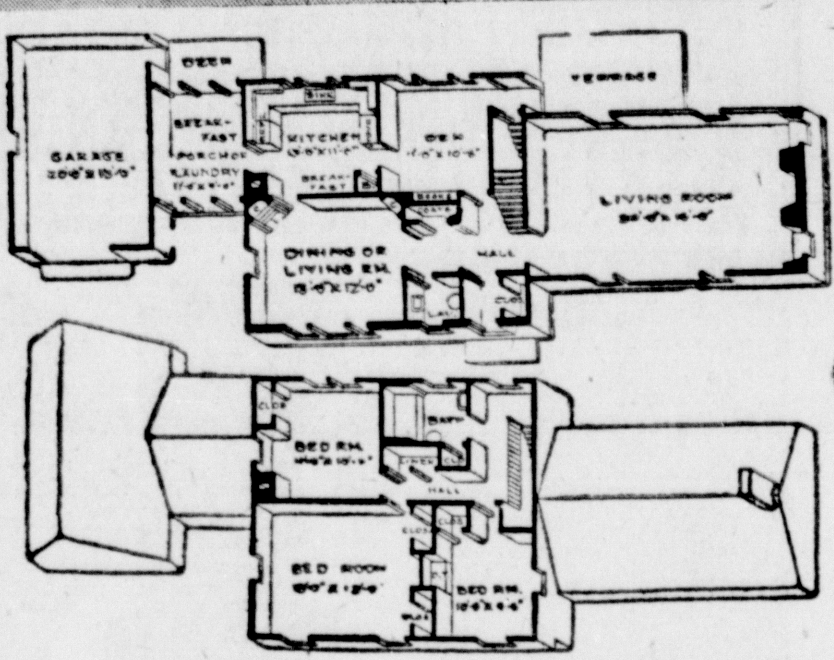

Although it is not very large in dimensions, the entry hall contains a large coat closet in the right wall. The entry hall opens on another hallway connecting with all the rooms on the first floor of the house.

Stairs to the second floor lead up from the connecting hallway, almost directly across from the entry hall. To the right, through an open archway is the living room wing. But a single story high, this wing of the house can be constructed at a later date, or can be left off completely, depending upon your preference and your need for additional space.

Measuring 24x16 feet in dimensions, the living room is an unusually well lighted, spacious and attractive room. There is a large picture window, flanked by casement windows, in the front wall, two smaller windows in the right wall and still one more in the back wall. Centered in the right wall is a large fireplace.

Further light and ventilation can be provided for the living room by using a French door on the doorway leading from the living room to the back terrace. This terrace can be turned into a delightful outdoor dining and living area during the summer months.

Another door to the terrace connects with the 11x10 1/2 den. Three windows in the back wall provide good light and ventilation for this room.

Directly connected with the den is the 13x11 kitchen. Again, three windows in the back wall provide an abundance of light and ventilation. Working counters, cabinets and cupboards are arranged in a U along the right, back and left walls of the room. The refrigerator is placed at the left end of the array and the stove at the right end. The sink is centered in the middle of the line of counters, directly under one of the windows.

There's a generous sized broom closet in the right front corner of the room and a good sized area at the front of the room is set aside as a breakfast nook.

Dining-Living Room

The dining room (which can also serve as the living room if you don't want to build the right wing, or until such time as you do) can be reached directly from the kitchen.

Measuring 15x12, the dining room is amply large to serve as a dual purpose room. There are three windows in the front wall and another large window in the left wall.

Opening off the kitchen the breakfast porch or laundry is 11x9 in dimensions and has doors leading to both the front yard and to the back sun deck.

Have a roof built over the sun deck and you'll have a protected side entrance to the 20x13 garage.

Three bedrooms occupy most of the space on the second story of "The Larkspur." Designed to serve as the master bedroom, the left front bedroom is 15x13. This room has two large closets and three well placed windows—good features in any bedroom.

Measuring 11x10, the left back bedroom contains an unusually large closet and is assured of good lighting and cross ventilation from the two windows in the back wall and the one window in the left wall.

In the right front bedroom there's also good cross ventilation, from one window in the right wall and another in the front wall, and plenty of good storage space.

The all modern bath contains both a tub and a shower. Ample lighted and ventilated by one large window in the back wall, the bathroom also contains a large clothes closet.

In the full cement basement place the heating plant under the dining room and the laundry under the kitchen. There will be ample remaining space for a recreation room, etc.

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost.

For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 18, The Gettysburg Times, and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Carnera, Ex-Champ, Belittles Marciano

DALLAS (AP) — Primo Carnera, ex-heavyweight champion, doesn't think much of Rocky Marciano, the current welterweight champion. "He's too small to be a great heavy-weight champion. Besides he is not a good boxer. A guy like Tommy Loughran or Gene Tunney would have defeated him easily." Carnera made these observations in a stop-over here on his way to his home in Los Angeles.

HAS DERBY RECORD

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Bold Venture, which has a son eligible for the Kentucky Derby here May 2, is the only sire with a perfect record in the Churchill Downs race. Bold Venture won the race himself in 1936. He sired two starters in the Derby and both won. Assault won in 1946 and Middleground triumphed in 1950.

NOTES ON DUTCH ELM DISEASE

The deadly elm disease is slowly exterminating America's favorite shade tree from the entire North and East. This is a fungous disease that is carried mainly from tree to tree by bark beetles and occasionally transmitted by sap where elm roots become naturally grafted.

The disease cannot be controlled by any known sprays although spraying may be employed to reduce the numbers of fungus-carrying beetles. Experience to date indicates a threefold program of combat to retard the spread of the disease — (1) Wage war on beetles before they introduce the infection into healthy trees; (2) Cut infected branches out and burn them before the infection spreads to the main limbs and trunk; (3) Destroy all harbors of beetles, especially in dead or dying elm wood.

The guilty beetles are believed to be most active at the time when elm leaf buds are opening. Many tree owners judge this date by the stage of apple tree growth. When apple trees are in full bloom, spray elm trees to kill beetles at their numerical peak.

One of the most effective sprays for this purpose is composed of one part orthodichlorobenzene in four parts of fuel oil. Not only should all parts of all elm trees be liberally coated with this spray at the exact time advised, but any cut elm wood that retains its bark should likewise be coated.

All native species of the elm are susceptible to the Dutch elm disease. And while definite diagnosis is a task for laboratory equipment, tree owners may quite accurately judge the common symptoms. Leaves of an infected tree may suddenly wilt and fall while they are still green. Usually, however, leaves of a single branch show infection, with the disease gradually spreading over the entire tree.

One of the most accurate ways to recognize the disease is to cut an infected branch off and observe the sap-conducting tissue of wood. If Dutch elm disease is the trouble, brown flecks or brown streaks show in the wood, sometimes forming almost an entire circle around the branch.

If the particular tree has become infected by bark beetles feeding on the branches, prompt cutting out of affected portions may check the spread and save the tree. But on the other hand, if the infection has entered via the trunk or through natural grafting of roots with a nearby elm that has already died or is dying from the disease, pruning out individual branches will be futile.

When an elm dies from this trouble it is important that the tree be cut down as soon as possible and all the bark removed from all the wood—limbs, trunk, stump and exposed roots. It is advisable to burn the smaller branches that cannot be peeled. Of course, the larger limbs and

Garden Carnations

Perennial borders, which were headline attractions in the spacious gardens of private estates, are becoming fewer, thanks to changing fashions and reduced garden space. But perennial flowerers continue to be the largest that can be grown, and unsurpassed for garden beauty.

Every flower garden needs them, in considerable numbers, if the display of color is to be maintained throughout the season.

From early spring until almost midsummer the perennials furnish nearly all the flowers blooming in the northern states.

Many perennials can be grown from seed as easily as radishes, and for best results they should be sown in the garden.

trunk wood may be safely salvaged for fuel, posts or other timber uses. Danger remains only in the bark of a stricken tree. This should be burned promptly.

Fungus-carrying beetles do not normally travel more than a few hundred feet from infected to healthy trees. But there are cases on record where winds have carried them more than two miles to set up another center of infection.

The editor urges readers to write him to ask all the questions and to seek all the advice they need to meet this menace.

Dad Gets Revenge For Son's Defeat

DENVER (AP) — Les Shumate struck a blow for the older generation as well as winning the regional A.A.U. handball title at the Y.M.C.A. After his son, Buzz Shumate, 19, had lost a three-set match to defending champion John Campbell, Shumate the next day disposed of Campbell in straight sets, 21-10, 21-15.

Shumate says he still can beat his son most of the time but Buzz is getting better every year.

be sown at the same time, as soon as the garden soil can be prepared. Waiting until midsummer, as many do, only increases hazard, and reduces the growing time available to the plants, before winter sets in.

There is no better way to acquire a "green thumb" than by growing your own perennials; and you will take much greater pleasure in your own plants than in those you buy.

Here is a list of subjects which grown readily from seed, and the time it takes for the seed to germinate. This useful information will enable you to wait patiently for the appearance of the sprouts, and not give up hope too quickly for those that take a little longer to start growing.

Anchora, 20 days; columbine, 30 days; Canterbury Bells, 10 days; delphiniums, 20 days; garden carnations, 15 days; coreopsis, 8 days; shasta daisies, 8 days; sweet william, 8 days; clove pinks, 10 days; gaillardias, 20 days; hibiscus, 15 days; hollyhocks, 8 days; linum, 10 days; lupins, 10 days; pyrethrum, 20 days; veronica, 20 days.

When still small, seedling perennials should be transplanted to nursery rows where they have room to develop. By fall they should be large enough to set out in the garden where next year they will produce a full crop of flowers.

Some perennials, such as peonies, iris, phlox, oriental poppies, and chrysanthemums, are rarely grown from seed for two reasons: They take more than two years to flower, or the seedlings are not like their parent. Sometimes both these reasons exist. Seed may be sown in the hope of finding, among the seedlings, a new or improved variety, worthy of introduction. This is a fascinating hobby, especially if a serious study is made of plant breeding, and seed is produced by crossing selected parents.

Most amateurs will prefer to buy plants of these perennials which were propagated by root divisions or rooted cuttings taken from old plants.

Tornadoes Leave Nine Dead In Six States Over Week End

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Swirling black tornado funnels blasted a path of destruction across parts of five Midwest states and Arkansas over the week end, leaving nine persons dead, more than 100 injured and widespread property damage.

Areas hit were Southern Minnesota, Western Wisconsin, Southwestern Nebraska, North-Central Iowa, West-Central Arkansas and Southeastern Kansas.

Property damage is expected to total several million dollars.

House Destroyed

Six of the Minnesota victims died when the tarpaper and clapboard house in which a Spanish-speaking migrant farm worker from Texas and his family were quartered on an asparagus farm near Hollandale was destroyed.

The six were Aristeo Martinez, 29; his wife Magdalena, 25; and four of their children—Jaime, 11; Raul, 13 months; Dominga, 8; and Jesse, 5. Friends did not know which part of Texas the family came from.

Bodies of the six were hurled 75 feet onto a road early yesterday evening when the funnel hit the flimsy structure. Neighbors said the house appeared to "explode from within."

The other Minnesota victims were Otto Jech, about 60, crushed to death when his barn caved in on his farm near Wykoff, and the 2-year-old daughter of Mrs. Dorothy MacDonald, 29, of rural Rochester, Minn.

The youngster was killed and her mother and Franklin Steele, 23, when Steele's car was lifted off the road and tossed into a creek.

The Wisconsin victim was Peter Novak, fatally injured when a barn was blown down on his farm near Amery. Several others were reported injured when high winds not definitely identified as tornadoes hit the western part of Wisconsin.

A tornado hit Hebron, a community of 2,000 in Southeastern Nebraska, Saturday night. Observers said it was a "miracle" that no one was killed as the storm wrecked two-thirds of the town's buildings. Sixty-nine persons were injured, at least 18 of them seriously.

CHURCHILL SAYS TRUCE PROPOSAL REQUIRES STUDY

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill said today the Communist proposal for a truce in Korea "requires sympathetic and patient examination."

Opening a foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons, Churchill, in referring to the Communist proposal, said:

"There is no reason known to me at present to assume that it might not form the basis of agreement, provided always it is put forward by the Communists in a spirit of sincerity."

He pointed out that the United States had borne nineteen twentieths of the cost of the Korean fighting in men and money and said:

"The matter is not one which we have either the right or the responsibility to decide, but it is our duty, without separating ourselves from our great ally, to express our opinion frankly and plainly to them as occasion offers."

The Communist compromise proposal on Korea calls for establishment of a neutral zone.

SAY ALL YANKS ASK GOOD HOMES FOR EVERYBODY

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today Americans of all parties now accept "as a moral obligation" the task of "providing decent housing for those now compelled to live in slums."

"It is to the work of citizens' groups, so often undertaken in a voluntary basis," Eisenhower added, "that we rightfully look for constructive and long-term solutions to problems such as these."

Eisenhower's statement was in a letter to Olin Linn, president of the National Housing Conference, Inc., as the conference gathered here for a two-day annual meeting.

The brief presidential letter made no mention of the administration request to Congress for continuation of the controversial federal low-rent housing program at $5,000 new units in the fiscal year starting next July 1. This is the same rate as the current fiscal year.

The House voted to deny all funds for the program next year. But in the Senate, an appropriations sub-

Hard Rain, Fog Cuts Action On Korean Front

SEOUL (AP) — Driving rain and fog halted most air and ground action today after 39 highflying American Superforts smashed with 500-pound bombs a huge 1,000-building Communist supply center deep in Northwest Korea.

Allied infantrymen huddled in bunkers as spring rains pelted the muddy 155-mile battlefield.

The only planes off for North Korea were weather reconnaissance craft, the Air Force said.

The B29s from Okinawa and Japan hurled 390 tons of bombs at the 375-acre Red supply area at Yangsi Sunday.

A thick cloud layer hid results of the radar-controlled drops. Red night fighters were in the skies, but did not bother the Superforts.

The committee has acted to restore funds at the 35,000-unit rate. The full appropriations committee considers this decision today.

ONE FOR THE ROAD — Youngsters make tests before renting scooters from a "scooter lot" adjoining a Hamburg, Germany, street blocked off from traffic where they can ride safely.
